Pay Increase for Styer Drivers

by Keith Petersen

Styer's pay scale has gone up!

2020 has been a very difficult year for all of us! Covid-19 has restricted so much of what we consider normal things, and forced many to make changes in our daily lives. One change of late that should help lift all boats here at Styer, wages are increasing for our drivers! Both Independent Contractors and Company drivers will see more take home pay weekly in 2021!

Here are some of the high points: Independent Contractors will now start at $1.05 plus FSC, a raise for most of over a nickel a mile. We will continue to offer the percentage pay option too, at 80%.

Company drivers will now see .45 CPM on all miles driven at Styer, loaded and empty. The company drivers will also retain more of their money each week with our per diem program, allowing for $66 / day in per diem.

All Styer drivers, Independent and Company will now enjoy a longevity bonus for years of service at Styer. Most drivers will see between $20-$60 per month. We will continue our safety bonus program as we know it today, where drivers routinely earn between $75-250 per month for accident free driving and achieving production goals.

Now is a great time to refer any friends in the industry, we'll continue to offer our team a referral bonus of $1,000 per hire!
